Welcome David!

We would like to welcome David to the SG family!

David is currently studying his first year of a Master of Landscape Architecture (MLA) course, and has joined us as a Year Out Landscape Architect. David has had an interesting career before starting the MLA course - curious to find out more about David - click here.

Spring Equinox

We love everything that Spring represents here at SG, including these beautiful flowers taken during a re-visit to an old project at Stephenson Monument this week. The colours in this photo are however a stark reminder of those facing a much less bright future - our thoughts and prayers are with everyone in Ukraine... Keep an eye out for future spring posts...

Enabling works at Queens Garden

There are exciting days ahead with the commencement of the enabling works on site at Queens Gardens in Hull. First off, a selection of tree planting at a scale rarely seen within our cities. Read more about the works here.

Pancake Day!

We were spoiled again for Team Treat Week! Our star baker Terri cooked everyone pancakes in celebration of Shrove Tuesday. See these mouth watering pancakes here...

Metasequoia glyptostroboides - selected trees for Queens Garden

Meat Stack parklet Lord Mayor's Award

The Meat Stack Parklet was nominated and has now been judged in this year's Lord Mayor's Award! It was a privilege to create an outdoor seating area for the hospitality service during Covid-19, and we know the parklet has been well used. Special thanks to all those involved and we look forward to sharing the news when we hear back on the judging - click here.

Reflecting on 2021

2021 has been an eventful year for the team at Southern Green, from winning a Landscape Institute Award, welcoming lots of creative new staff, and being appointed on numerous exciting and landmark projects. We would like to reflect on the main highlights of 2021 and hope to continue this success throughout 2022 and overcome new challenges.

A Day in the Life...

Southern Green are excited to share more about our life at work, especially to future Landscape Architects. Our work really does make a difference to the environment and areas we live in. Liam recently undertook a visit to Hull for HYMC Queens Garden, where alongside reviewing a range of sites for additional urban tree planting, he filled the day with Caffeine, CPD and exploring the local culture.
