

Anti-Slavery Policy

Modern slavery is a crime and a gross violation of fundamental human rights. It takes various forms, such as slavery, servitude, forced and compulsory labour and human trafficking, all of which have in common the deprivation of a person's liberty by another in order to exploit them for personal or commercial gain.

The Modern Slavery Act 2015 requires all organisations in the UK with a turnover of £36 million or more to prepare and publish a statement setting out the steps that they have taken during that financial year, to ensure that slavery and human trafficking are not taking place:

- anywhere in their supply chains
- in any part of their own business

As a small business these regulations do not directly apply to Southern Green Ltd, however, we do regularly provide sub-consultancy services to larger organisations as part of their supply chains.

This policy has therefore been written to confirm that Southern Green has a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and that we are committed to implementing and enforcing effective systems and controls to ensure modern slavery is not taking place anywhere in our own business.
